XIII Cochrane Colloquium
22-26 OCTOBER 2005

27th June 2005

Dear

Thank you for your application for a Developing Country Stipend to attend the 13th Cochrane Colloquium in Melbourne in October 2005.

I regret to inform you that your application for a stipend to attend the Colloquium has not been successful. The Developing Country Stipend Committee received a record number of applications, many of which were very strong, and it was a difficult decision to allocate our limited funds.

However, your application was ranked highly and you have been placed on a waiting list. Should we receive additional funding for Developing Country Stipends, or if one of the funded applicants cancels their attendance at the Colloquium, we will contact you. We hope these arrangements can be confirmed by mid-August.

If you require further information, or you do not wish to remain on the waiting list, please contact us by email at developingstipends@colloquium.info.

Yours sincerely

Ratana Panpanich and Pisake Lumbiganon
